PERSONAL PROFILE

Allow me to tell you a little about myself. I am learning about Frontend development as a self-taught. I know HTML, CSS, and Javascript. Now I am learning VUE, NODE JS, and Python to be a Fullstack developer.

Yes, my experience as a Frontend is indeed minor, but to say this is ignoring all my journey until today. My degree in Labor Relations allows me to contribute to recruiting personnel, training, or work environment. My background as a treasurer allows me to help with administration and accounting. Here is where I learned to manage staff. I have a hobby as a referee of American Football, where I learned teamwork, working under pressure, and dealing with people. In addition, I was in charge of the course for training new officers.

So with all said, I propose you to know me. I am sure I can contribute to the daily work. Let's start building projects together.
